A call-out for your best snapshots of Grandma

sydneyjewishmuseum.com.au

Nana, Nonna, Bobba, Buba, Savta, Granny, Grammy, Grand-Mère, Babushka, Nagymama, Babcia.

Whatever you may call her, the Sydney Jewish Museum invites the community to share their fondest photographs and memories of Grandma. (Grandpa – you're next!)

Whether she is passing down family traditions, teaching life lessons, knitting, crocheting, sharing, caring, running or jumping, cooking, baking and feeding, the Sydney Jewish Museum wants to know more about how our matriarchs nurture and care for us in the form of photographs.

At the curators' discretion, the most moving submissions will take pride of place on the Museum's mantelpiece in the upcoming exhibition, 'Bobba Knows Best: Snapshots of Grandma'.

The curators invite home-captured and intimate photographs from across Sydney, taken with love. Send in your highest resolution images with a touching story or moving memory by 31 May to give Grandma the honour she deserves.

For more information or to submit photographs, email curator@sjm.com.au or call 9360 7999.

This exhibition is inspired by 'Love & Legacy' at the Jewish Museum of Australia, Melbourne.
